

Rosie the Riveter World War II Home Front Historical National Park Bus Tours

Join us on our Summer Home Front Tours!

To date, over 170 enthusiastic community “tourists” have joined us as a way to re-acquaint themselves with the city and with the legacy that brought us the Congressional designation as one of the nation’s newest national parks.

Since the park is being co-created by the community and the National Park Service, it is vitally important that we all participate in the rediscovery of the unidentified World War II era structures; share the stories of the human experiences that gave rise to today’s city; and re-visit a time when “... life was moving so fast that it was impossible to learn the lessons that should have been preserved for our children”.*

Summer tour dates are as follows with all tours running from 9:30 am -12:30 pm. We will gather at the park’s temporary Reception Center at Richmond’s City Hall at 1401 Marina Way South -- and after a brief introduction -- we’ll board for our guided tour.
